QUALITIES REQUIRED TO MAKE A POSITIVE DIFFERENCE IN THE SOCIETY.

The qualities required to make a positive difference in the society are qualities which the members of the society need to have or possess in order to be able to make a positive difference in the society, that will result in a better standard of living for the members of the society.

In order to make a positive difference in the society, certain qualities are needed. The importance of these qualities in the positive development of the society cannot be over-emphasized. Infact, they are the attributes of a good and positive society, as a society cannot be described as good or positive in the absence of these qualities. The government and citizens of a society are expected to build up these qualities that are required to make a positive change in the society. It is a people that make a society. Therefore to make a good society, the citizens must possess these qualities.

Firstly, honesty is a vital quality needed to make a positive difference in the society. Honesty has to do with straight forwardness and truthfulness. If there is honesty in the society, the government will not embezzle public funds and the funds will be appropriately utilized. If the government make use of the public funds the way it should be used, there will be better life for the members of the society and this will give rise to a higher standard of living that will result in positive changes in the society.

Secondly, hardwork is another important attribute that is needed to make a positive difference in the society. Hardwork is when a lot of effort is put into an endeavour and is properly done. If things are done diligently with seriousness, there will be no hunger and poverty in the society and this will result in high standard of living among the members of the society. On the other hand, if hard work is absent from a society, then people will do their jobs the way they like and receive salary for it. This will lead to dishonest ways of doing things and dishonesty brings about cheating which destroys a society.

QUALITIES REQUIRES TO MAKE A POSITIVE DIFFERENCE IN THE SOCIETY

Society is defined as a community of persons whose tends to define a peaceful living.

A good child is a blessing not only to his family but also to the entire nation, for he strives within the limit of his capability to move his society forward, therefore the children and youth of this nation have greater role to make a positive difference in the society were they live.

Society is dynamic, and so it determines constant change and the qualities to make a positive contribution that will bring about societal advancement should not be over emphasized. If the society must therefore be a better place to live in, everyone of us with first sight must make positive contribution that will create the society we deserve. The following are some of the qualities that everyone desirous of making positive difference in the society must have, are objectives, goal setting, self discipline, integrity, education tolerance, honesty, diligence, dedication and respect for constituted authority.

Firstly, the person must set goals and objectives, you must have your mind fixed on one or two things that you can do to make a positive difference in the society. As a diligent and dedicated person he needs to be hardworking and also educated because, education is the best legacy. Without educated people in the society, the society will be constituted of nuisance.

Secondly, self discipline has to do with the ability for an individual to coordinate himself without the order of another persons authority. Self discipline is an essential factor to everyman's success in life. Self discipline also means when you respect and humble yourself, not doing what others are doing because they feel like doing it.

Thirdly, tolerance is the ability to live and appreciate others in the society, even when you are provoked. It is a valuable power point in helping us to live harmoniously. Fourthly, integrity is the ability to demonstrate, uprightness, self respect, dedication and honesty, discipline in all ways. A person with integrity does not receive bribe or encourage others to do so. A good example is the Edo State Governor Comrade Adams Aliu Oshiomohole, who is very transparent in all

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

WHAT IS HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Human trafficking is the movement of persons away from their homes or places whether under adults, either by mutual consent or the use of force or deceitful means through trafficker in per other areas or towns within a country or foreign countries in order to earn money.

In most cases, the person trafficked are exploited and used for cheap labour or force labour.

CAUSES OF HUMAN TRAFFICKING

There are some fundamental causes of human trafficking which are x-rayed in this text.

Poverty exists when the resource of families or individual are not enough to provide acceptable st of living. Like chief who sent his daughter to overseas for prostitution, just because of poverty. I enjoying and happy over the money his daughter was sending to him. Other by product of po prostitution, armed robbery human trafficking and corruption is too prevalent in our system a brings about poor democratic dividend which impoverish the people unemployment is the state having a job and not earning a living most of our youth have been sponsor by people to oversea b of unemployment (especially the girl for prostitution.)

What then shall we do to stop this illegal trade?

Some of our parents should train and discipline their children properly. They should not because I believe that a child that is well trained and well brought up properly cannot misbel become a wayward child.

Education the government should provide free education from primary school to institution. Because some of our parent do not have money to train their children in school usually send their children to oversea mostly the females from prostitution.

Government The government should encourage the awareness program on the activities of traffickers and also be made public through the newspaper and television. Efforts should also b for a law to be enacted to stop traffickers from this deadly act.

Reason why I should considered for this scholarship:

I am a brilliant girl, but my parent don't have money to train me in school. And I want to go to I don't want to be a wayward child, I value education so much and I want to become a great w future. That is why I wrote this essay and I will be very grateful, if I should be considered scholarship.

Excerpt #6

HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Human trafficking is simply the movement of persons from their locality, either by mutual consent or the use of force or tricky means, to other locality either within or outside the country. This act of illegality has gained root in our society and is spreading like wild fire in the harmattan breeze. Some of the known cases of human trafficking are: loose internet control, illiteracy, greed, corruption and joblessness.

Firstly, a lot of our young ones have turned the internet into an avenue through which they indulge in many atrocities either by commission or omission. As they engage the net, some of them inadvertently fall prey to human traffickers.

Secondly, illiteracy has caused a lot of harm to the society. As a result, the uneducated ones are mostly involved in the web of human trafficking because of their poor mental status.

The greedy nature of our people, coupled with the alarming rate of corruption in our society is another factor. Corruption has eaten too deep into our society that everyone wants to get rich overnight. This get rich syndrome is the driving force pushing our jobless youth into organized crimes like 419 and human trafficking.

Joblessness is another factor. Recently the show of shame carried out by the (NIS) Nigeria Immigration Service is a pointer to the alarming nature of unemployment level in the country. Such Nigerians can do anything if given the opportunity.

To prevent or stop this dangerous act totally, certain measures must be put in place.

There should be public enlightenment campaign to educate the people on the danger of human trafficking.

The National Assembly should enact, a law prohibiting human trafficking and who may be interested in the trade.

The Nigerian government must as a matter of compulsive regulation make education compulsory and affordable for everyone within the school leaving age.

Also, government should create jobs opportunities for our jobless youths. On the alternative, they should be engaged in other activities like setting up skills-acquisition centers for them to learn certain skills that may enhance their future in life.

In conclusion, it is my fervent hope that if these measures are adhered to, human trafficking will reduce in our society.

I need this scholarship to pursue my educational goals, as my parents are already retired and do not have that much to spend on me and the rest of my siblings.

WEND TO PREVENT BEING A VICTIM?

Young girls of this age are easily lured by material things and wealth, and they end up victims of human trafficking.

First of all, what is human trafficking? It simply has to do with the attraction of persons, either by a boy, girl, man or woman, to a country or state different from the countries or states of these persons, with the intention to deceive and cheat on them by way of exploitation. But the major sector mostly affected by this trend are young girls.

Human trafficking is very rampant in our present day society ~~of social media~~ ^{media is so} ~~was~~ a means through which people communicate, share ideas, information, facts and so many other things with others, but this greed man sees this precious gift of technology as a tool, and use it as a middle-man in his devilish and inhuman business of trafficking. These ~~men~~ ^{men} who gets to meet this young girls on social media ^{or} ~~through their means~~ other means - uses that opportunity to lure them.

Some parents who are so desperate to have it all, also joins forces with ^{these} men, after being promised 'all' by these men, in coaxing and compelling their young girls to comply, not knowing what they are in for, thereby pushing these young girls, who are future mothers of nations into slavery, hardship, depression and even death.

I will not fail to mention that some of these girls also play a ~~big~~ big part in their own enslavement. These girls, who do not have patience, and, are not

QUALITIES OF AN ASPIRING YOUNG WOMAN LEADER IN THE 21ST CENTURY, AND REASONS I SHOULD BE CONSIDERED FOR THIS SCHOLARSHIP

According to the oxford advanced learners dictionary, aspiring means "wanting to start the career or activity that is mentioned. Therefore, an aspiring young woman leader is a leader who is indispensable to any nation that seeks to develop educationally, socially, economically, religiously, politically even technologically in the 21st century. From the foregoing, an aspiring young woman leader must possess certain qualities which must be of unquestionable character.

Religiously, she must have the fear of God in order to lead the people fairly and to maintain a standard of godliness in the society. For the fear of God is the beginning of wisdom and it is the basic qualities an aspiring young woman leader of the 21st century must possess. She should engage herself in religious campaign against corruption, bribery, gossip, prostitution, fraud, character assassination scandal which is the deadly weapon in the hands of many leaders to annihilate the nation's unity. These are priceless and invaluable qualities which would create a better atmosphere for national development.

Moreover, she must be self confident, trust worthy and be knowledgeable about the abilities and qualities that is deposited in her. If she fails to believe in herself, nobody will believe in her, thereby making her dreams and visions to crumble. Without self confidence, an aspiring young woman leader cannot stand and make a firm decision and she cannot lead because of fear thereby giving rooms for opposition parties.

Despite her self confidence, she must be an epitome of intelligence, a reservoir of knowledge and an incarnation of wisdom whose advice and teachings are very priceless and highly invaluable. Her advice should be result oriented and beneficial to whoever accepts it.

More so, she must be honest. She must be selfless in service and accountable to people she is leading. She must not engage herself in dubious activities capable of damaging her reputation. She should be seen challenging others who make conscious and deliberate efforts to hide the truth; she should openly condemn people who lead others through the garden path and fleece them of their hard earned money to enrich themselves.

Excerpt #9

What then shall we say are the qualities of an aspiring young women leader?

Well I hope to provide answers to the above question in the course of this essay. But before finding out what the qualities are perhaps, it would be better for us to find out what aspiring and leader means.

Well, aspiring, according to the 'Advance Learner's Dictionary of Current English' defines aspiring as wanting to successful in life, it is also to have a strong desire to achieve or become something.

Leader is defined as a person who lead a group of people, especially the head of a country, an organization etc.

As a young woman who want to succeed in life, you must first know the type of leader you have aspired to be. Will have examples like a President, Governor, a lawyer and even the principal of a School, all are leaders in the Country but it all depends on you and what you want.

From all the above definition, we can now mention or state some of the qualities.

In the first place, she should have a possession of sound educational background to function effectively and efficiently as a future leader to come, she should be a sincere and trustworthy person that can be relied upon especially when handling difficult matter.

On the other hand she must be a God fearing woman a person who has the fear of God, she must not involved herself in the act of bribery and corruption which has actually eaten deep into the fabric of our society. The social disease of bribery and corruption now stinks in our society like a bed ulcer the funny thing is that here in this country bribery and corruption are cause by those who called themselves leaders. As an aspiring young leader, she must not involved herself in such practices.

Nevertheless, she must have a leadership trait which will enable her to lead her followers to their rightful destination, she must be a role model to other aspiring young leaders.

Furthermore, she should be tactful and be able to handle dicey (dangerous) situation with discretion and diplomacy, she should have a thorough understanding of all issue at stake.
